Synopsis

This film tells the story from the childhood of Chris Kyle up to his tragic death. He was born of a simple family cowboy with a very high education discipline of his father who was a cowboy.

Since the beginning, Chris implanted protective properties to his brother who is often bullied at school. His father taught him to be a predator to protect the family. From there the character of Chris who had the instinct to protect evidenced after he joined the US Army despite including a little old time register themselves, i.e. at the age of 30 years. Exercise of the father who taught him to shoot the animals hunted in the jungle was very helpful in his career to become a sniper.

In Ramadi, Iraq, the city where he was assigned had made his name very well known and most casualties from the enemy. On the other hand, there are hundreds of US soldiers who he rescued from Al-Qaeda fighters who was under the command of Abu Musab al-Zarqawi. Wild state in Iraqi cities covered chaos into a hostile arena combat for US troops. Besides patriotists ready to confront, there also is no less accurate sniper Chris Kyle on the enemy side.

He is a recipient of a gold medal athlete Syrian sniper the sniper also succeeded in killing dozens or even dozens of US troops. Even Chris Kyle himself almost became a victim of his shot. Two friends of Kyle became victims shot, witnessed in front of his own eyes. The event that is spurred him to engage in retaliation. There is one point, the operation is devoted to search for the Syrian sniper hiding in high-rise building which is actually quite impossible to find. But by Chris Kyle actual shooting glasses according to his friends far beyond the reach of the shot, the shot smelling speculation proved successful sniper killing of the enemy.

Although it has the killing instinct is very high, but the humanist side Chris Kyle displayed on this film. He's not a cold-blooded in real life. One time she had cheated by her boyfriend, but he did not kill his girlfriend affair. There was one when well when he had to shoot women and children who carry the mortar that will be thrown at a convoy of US troops, but with extreme caution, and he was forced to shoot them dead.

On one other occasion, Chris Kyle let go of a little boy who was about to direct the bazooka guns toward the US military. As a husband for Taya and father for her children, Chris is very responsible. But the patriotic spirit demonstrated higher than his role as head of the family. Chris Kyle was willing to leave his wife for the sake of duty of the state as much as 4x, 2x them when his wife during the pregnancy.

Although it has been sacrificed for the country, the life story of soldiers who have received various awards stars of this country are not comparable with the reciprocal she did. There are events in which her baby abandoned by hospital nurses. Even the tragic end of his life who died at the hands of a young veteran whose family wanted her help.
