A. TRANSCRIPT OF MALE YOUTUBER I

00:00-00:22 : Alright hello fellow stands of things. What would you imagine my video is about today? Hmm? Hmm? Are you imagining something? Could you imagine if I did a video about whatever you're thinking? What if I asked you to imagine?

00:23-00:43 : Today's video is about imagines. Now what are imagines? Imagines are like, they're basically like little bite-sized fan fictions. It's like a block of text that people post on Instagram and Twitter that say like shit. Like Oh My God! What did you imagine if Harry Styles if you bumped into him at the post office and he said "Hi, how are you?"

00:44-00:55 : There are however some very weird imagines out there. So together we're gonna we're gonna take a look at them today. But before we do that, I have a super quick announcement that I'm fucking pumped about and then I'm super stoked for. So check that out and then we'll get into it.

00:56-01:07 : We're coming back to Portland and Seattle, bitch.

01:08-01:34 : We're coming back to Portland and Seattle with the whole bunch of new shit. Sparking new show, nigger venue, brand-new music, crazy new production. The tour crew you know and love. Tom, Matt, The Lighting Guy, Chris, Dom, and hilarious no jokes.

01:37-01:49 : So Portland, Seattle, we want to see you there. This show is gonna be incredible. Alright there's gonna more music. It's gonna be way bigger, way better. It's gonna be insane and we can't wait to see you guys there.

01:50-02:15 : tinymeattour.com Get your goddamn fucking tickets. Alright let's open up our fucking minds and imaginations. A lot of these are from the Instagram account at worst imagines. So go give them a follow and then of course you know I gotta shut out the boy Curtis Connor. He's done a couple videos on these as well that are super funny. So go check those out! And without further ado let's get into it!

02:16-02:32 : By the way I fucking bookmarked a couple of these, so I could use them in the video and now my whole explore page is fucking Tom Holland stan accounts. The whole thing, did you all leave Tom Holland? You all left him. This one's called fuck boy Shawn Mandes.

02:33-03:10 : Hey Shawn it's been 45 minutes, are you coming? The food is getting cold. Oh sorry I didn't show up. I got a little busy. Oh that's okay. Another time? Look I wanna be honest. You are a really nice girl but you aren't my type of girl. So I was looking if you could hook me up with Sarah? Oh wow! Okay. This is a lot to take in. hope you have a great night. I don't mean I don't like you, but you ain't just my type, okay? So what's up with Sarah?

03:11-03:43 : No! Shawn you fucking dick dude. Jesus Christ, he stood her up dumped her. And then asked to hook him up with one of her friends all in like two texts. What an asshole! I don't know if I, I don't know if I could stand Shawn anymore after reading something like this. He just not that dude that I thought he was. It's bullshit. Also who would want to imagine this. Like if you like Shawn why would you want him to treat you like shit? Oh My God I fucking love Shawn Mandes. I wanted to disrespect me as a person. She knew a dog leash on you piece of shit.

03:44-03:54 : Also the fact that it's a text thread for some reasons just makes us so much funnier because like whoever is reading this essentially just imagining this.

04:02-04:18 : Fucking spit in my face Shawn Mandes. Kick me in the balls Shawn Mandes. This comment from Mandes Army's since 1998 says "Please, part two!" Why? Why would you want to part two this shit? What the fuck is gonna happen in part two?

04:19-04:27 : Hey, Shawn you're three months late on child support payments and umm I don't know Shawn junior and I are just getting hungry and we don't really have any money left.

04:28-04:38 : Hey, sorry I was waxing my Bugatti. Yeah, I'm like kind of strapped for cash right now. So, uh you made yourself like not eat for a bit, but, I mean like you can stand to lose a few pound anyways hahahaha.

- 04:39-04:46 : I fucked your mom by the way. Oh okay bye, love you, Shawn. Alright here's another Shawn Mandes one.
- 04:47-05:02 : You. I will take you somewhere when I get home. Where and why? The city and become I want to. We haven't been in a while. But I'm poor. It's called a date dump head. I pay for you.
- 05:03-05:40 : Okay, this one that is like a little bit boring, but I just I included it in here because dump head is probably the best phrase I've ever read in my entire life. What is a dump head? What is a dump head? Is that like calling somebody at does a shit brain? A poop skull? So many variations. That's it. I'm officially remaining all of my subscribers from chubsters to dump heads. We sound like a fucking punk band. Cody in the dump heads sick, at sack. And the merch is just gonna be giant poop emojis. Your wear as a hat. Come on! Alright moving on.
- 05:41-06:19 : Would you save him? From what exactly? From that beautiful green refreshing lake? First of all, it doesn't really look like he's in that dire of a situation. He's smiling. Sort of I mean he's like smirking. He's smiling with his eyes. You know he's smiling. And he's got a fucking life vest on. So then, so then what are saving him from? This, this fucking a refreshing swim? A good time? That's not a very nice thing to do is it and looks like he's married. Look at the finger right there ring. So, now you're a homewrecker. Nice!

06:20-06:26: Ok, now imagine this! Imagine you're texting Magcon Super hunk Cameron Dallas.

06:27-06:42 : Cameron, we have a problem. What? What is it baby? So, don't be mad but nash is hitting on me again. Wait, no! does that say nash is shitting on me again? Oh, Man! This is, oh, hopefully it doesn't sound just be a whole different category of fanfic.

06:43-07:09 : No, he isn't. I said don't get mad, please! No, he fucking isn't. Sorry I'll just block him. No, baby. What? Why? What? Why? He's coming over for dinner. What? Why I thought you hated him? I do. That's why he's gonna eat rotter fish for dinner while we eat some gourment fish. He won't notice a thing. Hahaha I love you.

07:10-07:30 : Yeah, Nash, you got Punk'd buddy you thought you were eating delicious macadamia nut crusted mahimahi like us? You were too stupid to notice that your fish was rotten and putrid and smelled like fucking shit and tasted like ass too, bitch. That's coz I got it from the dumpster. You dumped head.

07:31-08:00 : Imagine Cameron was a bad bad boy. He just got out of prison for fighting someone who made fun of you. Maybe it was the fish thing. You broke up when he went to prison coz you don't date bad boy, but when he got out you saw him homeless on the street. Jesus, fuck! You just fucking ditch them. You just ditched them. Oh shit! Wait you're going to prison for defending me? Uh, yeah, I don't fuck with that. Have fun in your cell you degenerate. He runs to you crying. You couldn't help but say "No!" But deep inside yourself you felt a spark still.

08:01-08:24 : What's! this dude lost everything. He went to prison. He came out of prison. And now he's homeless because of you. And you have the fucking balls to say "No!" to his face. You told cold person. I mean I guess it's me too. I'm supposed to be, I'm supposed to be reading. I'm supposed to be imagining this too. So, now I feel like, I feel like shit. I'm sorry.

08:25-08:54 : You look in his eyes and decide to take him home. You give him a bath and new clothes. Why is this written like we're taking a fucking stray dog home. Mom, can me keep on? While you're brushing his hair he looks in your eyes and begins stroking his hair. What's up? So he's stroking your hair and then he looks into your eyes and strokes his own hair. Yeah! ok! Yeah!

08:55-09:40 : Alright let's move on to this one holy fuck. Ah, looks like a bad optical illusion. I'm not the squint to read this one. Imagine you see a good-looking man in the distance staring at you. Hold on! That's Jeremy. Dude, he's got fucking binoculars. What a creep! Just shows it. Is that dude fucking staring? He's got binoculars. Yo, I'm calling the cops is fucked up. Wait! Wait! Dude, that's Jeremy Renner. Oh, dude, Jamie! Huge fan, man. Huge fan. Check out my tits. This is like all of a sudden it becomes totally fine that this dude is in the park with binoculars creeping on you. Maybe that's Jeremy Renner. Oh, yeah. Look at! Look away at me! You wanna see my dick?

09:41-10:07 : I'm close. Shawn gasped pulling on my hair. But I wasn't satisfied, I wanted him to suffer even more. What? Now tell me Shawn, can Camila do this? I grabbed a knife from the counter and sliced his dick off. By the way no hate on Camila. She's cool but Shawn and your name would make a better couple. Happy mother's day! What the fuck is it?

10:08-10:13 : Ok, this one is clearly a joke. But goddamn that's so funny game Camila to this. Happy mother's day by the way.

10:14-10:38 : Imagine, n, if you touch my girl again, we will slap you in places you don't want to. L, Now run. Your name, boys he is my doctor. N, oh but you're my princess the only the prince can touch his princess. Nial kissing you. That's sorry, that's not kiss and you just wanted to make that more visual for you.

10:39-11:21 : Come on! Fellas come on! It's my doctor if I don't get this procedure I'm gonna die. Sorry, babe. No one touches my princess but me. I guess some means you're gonna die. That's just how much I love you. It's beautiful. It's really a beautiful story. Some people will do anything for love. And that's a wonderful thing. Also what a weird threat if you touch if you touch my girl again, we will slap you in places you don't want to. Hey, you touch my girl again, doc? And you're getting a slap on the taint. Why don't you skedaddle before you get a swift slap to the nutsack. I'll knock your balls around, dude. I'll fuck your balls up, bro. Get out of here before I slap your ass.

11:25-11:43 : imagine! You and Harry had been dating for two months. One day Harry sees you with your bf. He is angry. His jaw clenches in uh, and. Now I'm not gonna say that one. He grabs your hand and pulls you away. Harry, you say. He stares deeply into your eyes. You see anger in him.

11:44-12:01 : Your name, you are mine, only mine. No one can have you. I love you. Kind of seems like you might, just be like a possessive abuser with anger issues. Also just a little side note here. The fucking your names in these. Let's really throw me off.

12:01-12:20 : You know I was really into this one. I really was feeling it here. I was feeling the energy until I got to the your name and it just fucking, you know I just y/n it's so like hard to look at. Just fucking put a name there. Fucking Stefan, Stefan, S-T-E-V-V-E-N, STEVVEN. That will be fine. That could be my name.

12:21-12:35 : alright let's move on here. Just imagine! Edd's staring you down and biting his lip as you come out of the closet with a shiny dress. He gets so turned on, what do you do? Jesus that's how he's looking at you?

12:41-13:10 : I don't know, it's starting to wear me out a little bit. Sorry but it is. Ok, so, I read so many of these that I thought. Well I might as well take a stab at writing a couple, right? See if I have what it takes to create a good imagine. And well this is what I've come up with. Sorry it's a little bit, you know, can get a little bit, ah, I don't know. Just shy when it comes showing my work. But, um, I think I think I confident in these enough to show them to you guys. So, uh, here we go.

13:11-13:57 : This one's called fuel. You come home from go karting. You have oil smears all over your face and you smell like burnt tires. Harry styles is in your kitchen eating cereal. Is that my captain crunch you ask angrily with anger? Yes, harry says. He rips a big we fart and it smells like butane. Wow! What a smelly one. I love it when you peel off stinkers like that. You drop your go carting helmet and head towards him with passion. He fucking whips the bowl of captain crunch at the wall behind him and it explodes. You start making out. Stevven. He says passionately with anger. He eats beef jerky off your ass and pukes. He's the perfect man for you. Hope you guys like that one.

13:58-14:32 : I do have one more and I'll just read it. It's caught this one's call spider-man. You're at home alone watching c span. Tom Holland busts through the front door mumbling sweet nothings. But then you realize it's just a drunk dude from Hollywood Boulevard dressed like spider-man. And he's covered in his own shit. Greet Scott you scream british-ly. Tom Holland appears in your window. He grabs you and you both fall out. On the way down he tries to use his webs but he's not actually spider-man in real life and so you both splatter on the ground passionately. Happy mother's day.

14:34-15:00 : Hope you guys like those that took a lot of me to share those with you. So I've done just hope your hope you provide the them with these. Well Stevven that was fun. This was a fun ass video and I can't wait to see all you dump heads in Portland and Seattle. Tinymeattour.com if you want to get tickets. And you know if you want to join the dump head family, if you want to rip stinkers with the dump heads, make sure you like this video and subscribe it. I'll see dump heads in the next video toilet.

B. TRANSCRIPT OF MALE YOUTUBER II

00:02-00:20 : Ok, hello my chickpeas! Today I am giddy with excitement. I want to let you into a little part of my life that I like talk about a lot online, I talk about it to my friends, my family, I'd probably talk about it to strangers, Lance what I'm talking about is plants.

00:21-01:17 : House plants in particular. Greenery, shrubbery, down-right tom foolery. I like a lot of people in the last couple year have deeply become involved with my houseplants. I don't know what happened. I don't know what switch was flipped. But as soon as I started collecting houseplants, it feels kind of weird to say collecting. But as soon as I started getting more and more houseplants, I couldn't stop. I had to keep getting more and honestly I can never have enough. I'll get to a point where I feel like every crevice of my home has just a little bit of green in it. And then I'll find e new space that needs a little bit more. At the moment I have upwards of 25 houseplants which sounds quite excessive for one person in one home, but one no judgement to a bunch of them are just little clones of some the bigger one which is I'll get into later in the video. Before we begin please do me a favor and go down there and click the thumbs up button if you like this content. And if you're new, go subscribe while you're at it.

01:18-02:14 : First, let's start off with the living room. Recently I found this beautiful monstera plant that I just had to get. If you're not familiar with plants, you've probably seen this one because it's that beautiful big leaf plant that has little tears in the leaves. And I remember always seeing that online and being like I just, I don't know what it is. I need one. I need one now. But I could never really find one until earlier this year I walked into plant nursery and it's just like, it was like a beacon of hope. She's so cute. She's so good. She's always looking perky and beautiful. And I'm always so happy to water her in the morning. She's in one of the best spots in my place in terms of light, so she always is just glowing and driving. I love her. I can't get enough of her. Also she's situated right next to my blankets one being my way to blanket. So it's just love all around moving over here to my TV area. I picked up these two little pots when I was home in Minnesota. They were handmade in Minneapolis and the artist that I got them from was just super sweet. So I was really excited to finally do something with them. I cut off a little bit my photos and my caladium.

02:15-02:36 : By the way if I say any of these plants name wrong, don't roast me in the comments. I don't talk to people specifically about the names of my plants or I should say the kinds of my plants, so normally they're just the big one, the small one, the cute one, the one the grows too much, the one that doesn't grow enough. So, I'm gonna mispronounce things. So, feel free to educate in the comments down below.

02:37-02:51 : But so I cut off the leaves from those and have put them in there. And honestly I'm always shocked at how long they survive. In theory, the photos ones both those and I don't think I'm saying that right for those what is it. I've been saying photos, it's not photos. That's a philodendron

02:52-03:05 : But anytime I've cut a leaf off another one my plants, I'm always shocked they live for months. So with anything they just make like a cute little accessory. So pretty, so cute, so beautiful. And the lowest maintenance possible I never have to water them because they pretty much just sit in water. And maybe I fill it up once every couple months.

03:06-03:31 : Going over to my coffee table. This is what they call a money tree, which the first time someone told me that I thought they were pulling my leg. I thought that was a joke. But umm.. it's a money tree. I actually got this guy for photoshoot. If you remember back on my comment culture, photoshoot with a red sock, insert image here. I bought this guy below the photo studio. So that we could put a plant on a foot because I'm an artistic little hoe.

03:32-04:01 : And I've kept it ever since, and she's thriving. She's very low-maintenance. I water her like once a week. Maybe twice slipping lush, growing leaves all the time. But what I really like about her is the kind of like twisted stem that goes up, I don't know. I just think it's really really cool, and really beautiful. It's like a small, little tree, money tree. But there is something I've always really enjoy about that. Also I was always a little bit hesitant to put it in the background of my videos, because it low-key looks like a marijuana plant. The leaves make it look like weed.

04:02-05:09 : Tell me I'm wrong. I dare you. But she's too pretty to keep out of the view. Now moving further into my living room. This is my cactus. I think it's a San Pedro cactus, but honestly it's quite hard to figure out what cactus is, which cactus. A little bit hard to Google, I'm like tall pointy cactus. She's very pretty cactus. It's super easy to take care of. They don't need necessarily too much light. And it's also hard to put them in too much light. You could legit get away with watering them like once a month, and they'd be fine. But I give her a little sprinkle every week to every two weeks. She's also like growing a new head at the top of it. I'm wondering where that's gonna go, how big it's gonna get. And if I'm doing something wrong, I'm willing to bet I'm doing something wrong, and moving further to your left. This is my fiddly fig. I've had this plant for almost longer than any other plant in this house for years. I've had it for so long. I can't even remember. This is like a typical plant that people get or people put in Instagram photos, in any sort of design show, they always get them a fiddly fig, and lucky they're stupid expensive. I definitely paid too much for this guy. Don't know why this one's guy and the other ones are girls, I don't know.

05:10-05:43 : The bigger they get the more they charge and it definitely wasn't big enough to be as expensive as it was. But luckily it stayed around for a really long time, and it continues to thrive. Honestly thriving a little too much. It has gotten so big that I had to cut some bamboo in my backyard and tie it to it so that it doesn't tip over and break in half which from what I've read that's quite typical of these. They have such a skinny little trunk that if they get tall enough they're just gonna be top-heavy and then snap in half. So you have to support him. I have to support him, he's my eldest. Also I know I've definitely named him, but I have somehow forgotten.

05:44-05:53 : Most of these plants don't have names because again I live alone and there are so many that I would have forgotten already. So do me a favor if you like any of them in particular. Give them a name in the comments down below.

05:54-06:26 : Moving over to my record player. I have this cute plant called a Fatonia I believe or white Nerve Plant and it's just struggling. I think it's because it's in a place that doesn't have enough light. So I really need to swap it out with like a succulent or something that does well in low light, because she's looking quite dead. Oh My God she's fuckin dead! She's not doing well. She started off a lot prettier that she is now no offense. I need to change something up with her. Luckily though her pot is very cute. I feel like I got that at a local nursery. Just like I got most of these at local nurseries across Los Angeles.

06:27-07:08 : If you go over to my kitchen table, I have a very small cactus in the center of it. Something fishy happened with this guy earlier in the week. So there I was about to board a plane for Shanghai. My bags were packed my lift was ordered. And all of sudden I look on the table and that mohfucka fell over. It just fell over out of nowhere unprovoked. So then I tried to pick it up and it's so sharp. That I got prickles and all of my hand, my lift is outside. I am leaving the country for a few days, stressed beyond belief. So naturally I did what every good parent tends to do and I just left my child laying there on the table alone. It's a cactus, it was fine.

07:09-07:21 : So this is reporting it. Seeing if it will survive, I don't know. It's an experiment and trying my best. It still looks adorable. I got that one really cheap at flea market too, so I don't know if that has anything to do with it.

07:22-07:54 : Moving into the kitchen. This is the newest addition to my plants. I believe it's called a Caladium, maybe potentially. It reminds me of the holidays a bit. Like it kind of looks like a Christmas plant and maybe it is in some way, I don't know it wasn't described that way. But I really like the mixture of white and green and how leafy it is. It's very pretty. I might have to move it from this location because it doesn't get the best sunlight. I need to do a little bit of research still. She's very new, very much a newborn. But at the moment she looks really cute and she's holding up some mail that I haven't gotten to yet, so she's helpful as well.

07:55-08:55 : Let's move over to the kitchen's pride and joy. My philodendron which I'm pretty sure is the philodendron at this point. I've honestly just called that Ivy which I don't think is correct at all. This beautiful vine plant continues to grow and thrive. It's also in one of the more sunny locations in my house. And It just keeps growing and every morning when I wake up to go with my coffee, I see it, and it honestly makes me smile. I'll put it in the sink. I'll give it quick little rinse. I'll let it sit there while I'm eating breakfast or answering emails. And the I'll just pop it back up, very easy.

And what's absolutely wonderful about this plant and many vines like it, and one of my more recent plant endeavors is it's great for propagation. So basically you can cut the vines right at a leaf, take off that vine, put it in some water, and it will sprout roots. So throughout my house, I have old jars that I've collected, and I've slowly cutting off that vine as it grows too big and start reaching the floor. And I'll add it to the jars, and put them throughout my house.

08:56-09:22 : It's a dirt cheap plant. Don't get me wrong! But what's super cool about it is that you can really take advantage of how quickly it grows by putting it throughout your house. And again those jars require no work because it's you just fill it with water. You put it in, you hope it sprouts root, and you let it go. And then replant it or just keep it in there. I love it. It's fantastic. It makes me smile. Oh My God! Starting to get the cute aggression.

09:23-10:05 : Moving further into my kitchen. I have this large gap between my kitchen cabinets and my ceiling that I've been meaning to fill. So I got this really large fern plant at Home Depot just like 5 dollars, 10 dollars, very affordable. If you need affordable plants, honestly go to like Home Depot or Lowe's, or any places like that because they have so many great options. And they're always affordable, to the point where I'm like what's the scam, what's the catch here are diseased, or they're going to kill all my other plants. But I haven't really had any issues yet so I will say my friend isn't doing the best. I think because that corner doesn't get quite as much light as some of the other corners in my kitchen. I might need to move it, but I'm still giving it time to see because it's not dying per se. it's just not thriving

10:06-10:17 : It's great though for all the white walls that I have. It really adds a nice pop of color. So as soon as you walk in my house, you just see all this greenery. Oh my children! I'm so proud of them. Speaking for dad.

10:18-11:13 : For any longtime viewers, you would know that my oldest plant or the first plant that I really purchased was named Sara. Sara was some type of cut back cane or some form of yucca tree, something, some division of that. And she didn't pass away fully, but she has been moved outside because she's just not doing well inside anymore. So it's not that I got a replacement. I didn't replace her, but I did get a near identical copy of her and put him in the same place out there it is. We can call this one Harris. Because that's Sara backwards of all take suggestions when comments down below either way I feel weirdly about it. It's about plant. But I feel sad and attached. She's not dead yet, but she's not alive either somewhere in between.

11:14-11:30 : Onto my bedside table. I bought a little wood stand and test tube combo on Amazon. And I just think it's so she. I put one of propagated philodendron plants in it. And it just feels very modern. Super easy to take care of, very pleasant to lay in bed, and go to turn off the light I just see it there. Looking sweet! Yeah, I like that one a lot.

11:31-12:08 : Moving into my bathroom. Up in the corner of my bathroom I have a spider plant. Hate the name like the plant! It's a very vivid grassy plants that just adds a nice pop of color again to my otherwise white bathroom. It gets a nice stream of light from the window out there, but it also gets nice humidity when I take a hot shower. What's been weird is this one has been growing and I'm sure this is normal, but it's been growing flowers out if that. I think it's normal. Either that or it's not the plant that I thought it was and what's really pretty about it is that they close at night and open in the morning. So when I wake up in the morning, they're still closed coz there's stuff like sleeping. And then I'll go back in there a few hours later, and they're all opened up. Sweet! How precious!

12:09-12:39 : Right below that big boy is just a small succulent plant. I know this one has a name, but I can't quite remember them. Again what's really nice about a succulent is that they don't take much effort of my part. So it just adds a nice pop of color, a little sliver of life to another wise bear counter. This one's also pretty new. In general I totally recommend succulents to anyone who's worried about killing plants or anyone who's a beginner with plants. They don't require much water and they don't require much care but they're still as great as all other ones. To start there and work your way towards something a little bit more care intensive.

12:40-13:13 : Going into the next room. This room is difficult because it doesn't get a lot of light. It gets light for the first half of the day, but the second half of the day it's pretty shaded. So, I'm always worried about putting plants in here, but the ones that have been doing here just fine. I caught off a leaf of my monster plant and put it in a vase and this is one of those ones that I've been talking about. It has legit been alive for like 4 months. And it's just a leaf. It's not sprouting roots. I don't think that's a thing with monstera plants, but it looks just as good as the day that I put it in there. So that's nice to know.

13:14-14:05 : Moving to the side table is a zebra plant. This one, I came home from a trip not too long ago, and boy, she was gone. She was wilted. She was near death. I was really close to throwing her away until I thought "Ok, let's see if I can bring her back to life". I gave her a little water. Putting her in a more sunny area. And I kid you not after a few days, all of sudden I came in there one morning and it was just back to normal. It didn't happen right away. It took a little time, but it was just amazing. I felt bad that I nearly tossed it. She has a few leaves that are a little bit scorched. But other than that, doing pretty good. If you go to the shelf, I have another one of those jars with the IB hanging on it. No need to explain that anymore although if you look to the right if it there's there's a lovely painting of two naked men. So you can you can look at that instead. I got it in Amsterdam.

14:06-14:43 : Okay, this boy right here. I swear to you when I bought this one it said it was a yucca tree or yucca tree. I still don't know how to pronounce it. I think it's yucca, yucca, yeah, whatever. It was labeled that I thought it was that. But somehow a little research of this video, I come to see that this mohfucka is actually a corn plant or a corn cane or something or like otherwise known as a mass cane, not a yuca tree at all. It's all been a lie. I got bamboozled for a corn plant.

14:44-15:11 : I don't know exactly what that means. It's still nice to look at. It's still a nice little trio of trees. It's definitely not gonna grow corn, that's for sure. But it's just it's not what I thought it as. And that was just a little disheartening to see. While I was researching this video she's doing fine. I'm not that upset by it but it's just a little hurt by lies. I need not repot this one because the pot is clearly too small for the tree. But I'll figure it out later.

15:12-16:05 : Very briefly we'll go outside. I haven't added many plants outside. A lot of plants here were here when I moved in. But I do have a few that I potted myself and purchased at I believed. All of these were purchased at a flea market or Home Depot. Various cactus, various succulents, they look really nice in the pots that I picked out at also the flea market and also Home Depot. I put the three lining some steps I have at my place. And then I put three more that are just sitting on a little table. I have outside as well. I had another one in the blue pot, but when I was moving the movers thought that one was fake and they literally crushed it. Thus crushing me when it arrived broken in half. So I only recently got around to repotting that one and give it new life. And they're all doing pretty well. Some of them are in pretty intense California Sun. Others are in a little bit more shaded areas. But again, because they're cacti they're used to it being very hot a very sunny, so I think that they'll be just fine for now.

16:06-16:39 : But yeah, that's a little tour of my house-plant collection. I continue to add there's so much room for improvement. A lot of them I'm constantly moving into more sunny areas, and then moving back into the place that I have them in, if they're drooping. I'm assessing, if I'm giving too much water or not enough water. What I've learned is that it's very easy to over water a plant versus under watering a plant. A lot of people tend to water them too much and then the roots will rot. And they ascend we drown. So be careful! Be cautious! Do a little research. I know I'm by no means perfect as you probably saw in some of these visuals. But I'm pretty happy with how most of them are doing at the moment, so let's go me.

16:40-17:57 : So if you have any plant suggestion for me, definitely leave them the comments down below. I always love at the very least looking up new plants. And again if you have any names suggestions, also leave those in the comments below. If you want to tweet me or tag my in your Instagram photos of your plants, my hats are built are Connor Franta. Let's all just bask in this beautiful lush plant glory for a little bit.

16:58-17:09 : Plants bring me so much joy and they make my house feel so warm and inviting, and full of life. And it's just become like the best hobby I could ever have.

17:10-17:22 : Ok, friends, that's all about it. If you did enjoy this video, again, go click the like button down below. And subscribe for videos every two weeks for so. Yeah, hope you guys are having a great day, a great life. And I will see you soon.

C. TRANSCRIPT OF MALE YOUTUBER III

00:00-00:23 : Greetings gamers and welcome to here, spooky video. Here on the lasercorn channel today. We are running down my top 5 favorite spooky games for the Halloween season. And then keep in mind this is just my favorites. It's not the best games of all time. If you disagree you could leave it in the comments. But you know I've never done this top 5 before. So I figured yeah let's get in there. Let's talk about scary games!

00:26-01:03 : Now creeping its way into the number 5 spot is Outlast. It's a game where you're a reporter investigating a mental asylum. A situation that can't possibly result anything spooky happening. Now I played this game way back in the backseat.

Gaming days of Smosh games and it's pretty creepy. You're a reporter, I'm only with a camera. And you have to navigate this maze like mental asylum with all these mental patients. Trying to hunt you down and bash your brains. And some of them are just sitting creepily. And they're just crazy talking to themselves, but others are really really aggressive in me. And I remember we were hiding in a locker hoping this guy with a bat didn't open the locker and check it in and bash our brain in. It was very spooky.

01:04-01:24 : And there were a few parts that like stuck with me long after the game ended. The nude guy part was nuts. Literally you could see he's nuts and he was chasing me around. And he's all naked and creepy. And you just wanted to get away from that naked man. Yeah, no me gusta creepy naked guy. Also the elevator scene Jesus, the elevator scene. Now I'm having flashbacks. Let's move on!

01:28-01:58 : Spooking its way into the number 4 spot on my list. The Evil within 2. This game the boss fights are really what made this game. They were just out of this world. You start of pretty much fighting a multi-headed buzz saw monster. And it just gets weirder from there. You've got your camera monsters your safe base monsters. This game has some of the most imaginative enemy design I've ever seen. Plus the weapon in this game felt really good especially the different kinds of arrows. I remember the fire arrow into the oil slick to light up that very first monster was a gratifying feeling.

01:59-02:23 : It's just a really fun game and I like the way they worked stealth into it. And the fact that you could be stealthy and sneak up on some of the monsters and do like stealth kills on him. It was almost a mix of horror and assassin's creed. It was great. But sometimes you would sneak up on monster and try and kill it. And then it would be a stronger monster then you thought. And then it would just turn around and be like "now you've made me angry". So yeah, a lot of great moments playing that game. I should go back and replay this Halloween season.

02:28-02:50 : And scraping its way into the number-three spot is the game clock tower and men. Scissor man is just one of the scariest villains of all time. I mean you've got games like to Resident Evil. Okay Resident Evil's got nemesis and Mr. X and those are huge towering monstrosities. One of them has a rocket launcher and they hunt you relentlessly, but they're big imposing dudes that scare you.

02:51-03:34 : Scissor man was the little hobbled over guy with his giant pair of scissors that would hop around, horrifyingly got that. The way he moves around the map was just the scariest part of the game. And oh my God you'd be hiding in the bathroom stall and the game had this weird like coin slip system. So if you went into a bathroom stall to hide, he might just he might just look around and then kind of Hobbit out of the door or he might stab you right through the right through the stall door and kill you. It was just it was just a crazy intense game. So much suspense waiting to find out if scissor man was gonna kill you or not. And he was just he's just one of the best fatties of all time. I love them. I love them. I big ups for short baddies for doing it without the towering seven-foot height. Love that.

03:37-04:00 : And mutating its way to the number-two spot on this list is the game that took horror to infinity and beyond. I'm talking space, Dead Space. Not not some sort of horror game set in the Toy Story universe. I know I said infinity and beyond that. Oh though. It's a second. Gimme there's a second Toy Story horror game might not be such a bad idea.

04:01-04:49 : Anyway let's talk about Dead Space and specifically Dead Space too! That's the first game I played in the series. So that's the one that stuck with me. The most again this is my list of top 5. I know a lot of people will probably say one is better, but I really like too. This is the first game that really made me come to terms with the fact that I'm very reliant on headshots. If you make me think about enemies in a new way and take that away from me, I struggle a little bit 'til I got the hang of it. And once I got the hang of it though I was cutting off limbs and growing them back at people. You got the the blue meter on your back that tells you how many psychic throws you got left. And also your spine shows you how much life you have like very immersive. That's one of things that did great. It just creates this very immersive environment where instead of a hud or life bar up at the top. It's got it's got you stuff right on your back there and it shows you how much you're in because you've got the futuristic spacesuit.

04:50-05:10 : I really love the way they did that. That was great. And then oh my God the nursery scene. The nursery scene was difficult to watch. The little baby crawl into the women, and then just exploding everywhere. And then you had to face all the the evil mutated nacro babies. It was it was horrible, horrible crawlers. I think they would call it the creepy crawly little babies that would crawl up to explode horrifying creatures.

05:14-05:54 : And number one on my list is a game from a franchise. I'm very fond of resident evil, of course, but which game. I actually had a lot of trouble deciding which is my favorite Resident Evil game you got one the classic. The game that gave me nightmare coz my dad rented it from blockbuster. Thinking it'd be a fun thing to do as family. And then it was horrifying. It had full motion video. Literal actors sprinting through fields, running from evil, undead dogs, and then getting into that mansion. And then the first zombie you see it turns around like "I was trying to kill you". And that was horrifying. It gave me gave me many nightmares. I think my parents bed one night, during that whole fiasco.

05:55-06:43 : And then how could you forget to to it as classic as well. Running through the street, trying to get to police precinct. And then oh man! Just a terror on the second playthrough as mr. X turns the game upside down for you. Four was amazing. Really took the franchise to a whole new level. Introduces new enemies. The first time you see one of those tentacles sprout out someone's head and realize that they're not dead just because there had exploded. That was horrifying. Has a great game. Seven was really good as well. Evil Billbillies who saw the game going in that direction certainly not me. Uh, so picking just one is very difficult. I think we're gonna have to go with. I'm gonna make it to. I'm gonnacount two and the remake of two as kind of one game which is maybe some remade DLC. Because man! Really love too, and I really love what they did with the remake. It was a blast.

06:44-07:15 : Everyone I talk to who plays the game says "it's a blast ". The way they, oh, spoilers. If you haven't played too. First off turn this video off go plate Resident Evil 2 the remake. But the way they have mr. X appear in the first playthrough. You're going along like dododo. Okay some of these is a little different but I mainly get the gist of this. They're not gonna shake things up too much. And then mr. X just like throwing a flaming helicopters like "Hi. I'm here on the first playthrough. I'm here to murder you". And then the way he just follows you around, relentlessly through that precinct. Trying to kill you is really really pulse-pounding. I love it.

07:16-07: : You have to pause. You have to pause and look at your map. You go, okay. Where am I going because I go the wrong way, he's gonna murder me. And then just being able to aim with a mouse and keyboard is something I never knew. I wanted so badly in a Resident Evil game. It really is a world of difference. It's so satisfying to be able to aim like that. And you get so much backstory. New umbrella into that game is, it's awesome and all the little documents and stuffs. It's just a really well done game. Also as I mentioned if you watched my Instagram who designed that police precinct. The answer to that is it was actually a museum. That they turned into a police precinct.

07:49-07:55 : But that's less fun. I like to imagine it was just designed by a madman who's really at his fingers crossed by a zombie apocalypse. And really wanted to make people suffer.

07:56-08:15 : Welcome to Raccoon City Police Department new guy. Any questions? It's just uh where is the coffee machine? Yeah, you just head down that hallway. And put the three medallions into the base of that statue. And then once the bookcase spins around you're gonna want to play the correct notes on the piano. After that use the heart key you got from the safe on three B, not the diamond. I'm just gonna go to Starbucks.

08:16-08:25 : And that's it. That's my list. Now a lot of people are probably mad right now. They're like what "what about this game that I love". We'll leave it in the comments for me. I'd love to talk about it. I'd love to play it if it's a game I haven't played yet.

08:28-08:48 : I'm gonna go through some honorable mentions right now. We've got five nights at Freddy's. Okay, I know I've hated out in the past. But those robotic monsters are actually very creepy. And if you're into jump scares, that's the jump scare game. It's the jump scariest jump scares game there is. And really it's it's like the king. And if you're into that kind of game, it's so it's so phenomenal game.

08:48-09:08 : And got Silent Hill. The Silent Hill series nothing from that. In this one I know, uh, I just never got into that series. I missed one in two. I didn't play those for some reason and I tried to get in at downpour. And it just didn't really suck me in the way other game on this list have. If they ever remake the one with pyramid head too. I think I probably go back and play that. Or even I'll go back and play one.

09:09-09:29 : The Alien Isolation game was great. It took a little too long to get to the actual alien part for me. I felt like I was playing awhile and reading a lot before the alien showed up. And I know that's the criticism of an impatient man. And they were world-building and whatnot, but I don't. I just wanted get into it a little faster. I don't know if it does that. Make me a bad person maybe

09:30-09:36 : Anyway there is a ton of great horror games out there. Like I said get in the comments! Tell me your favorites! Tell me what should have made the list and why I would love to hear it!

09:37-09:45 : And that's all. I hope you all have a very happy Halloween. I hope you have a spooky but not too spooky Halloween. And I will see you all next time. Buh-bye.

D. TRANSCRIPT OF FEMALE YOUTUBER I

00:00-00:24 : I just ate a whole bag of Doritos. I feel that's not very VSCO girl of me. Hello! So where am I venturing off to? You may be wondering. Today I am going to be turning myself into a VSCO girl. If you don't know what VSCO girl is, congratulations you are old and out of the loop. A.k.a me. This is literally the first time that I was like I am old, I don't know what this means.

00:25-00:45 : It honestly reminds me of like tumbler girls which is I'm more familiar when I tried to be a tumbler girl back in the day. Emphasis on the tried, it was a failed attempt. So today I'm probably gonna fail to attempt to be a cool VSCO girl. But the thing is is that when I was looking into it, I started to realize that I already had like 70% of what a VSCO girl is.

00:46-01:19 : I think I need like photos like visuals. Oh that's cute. These girls are really cool. They're all very tanned. It seems they all have their life together. Okay I do feel like my thighs are too thick to be VSCO girl, but we're gonna make it work. Where's oversized t-shirts or sweatshirts with Nike shorts, wears a shell necklace, a backpack, she always has a hydro clasp, a Polaroid camera. I think this is just a video of me discovering that I am in fact a VSCO girl.

01:20-01:36 : Today we are taking that 70% and we are going all the way. There are a few things that I need to get. I think I just need like a hydro flask. I also need Carmack's Mario Bedescu products. Thing challenge is gonna be good for me. I mean doing skincare, I'm moisturizing my lips, I'm getting healthy.

01:49-02:35 : I went to Urban and I was able to find an oversized t-shirt. Also I was able to find a bunch of Mario Bedescu products. Oh, I think you're not supposed to shake this one, and I kind of ran back to my car. I tend to do that when I'm like going from place to place. I'll just like sprint to whenever I need to go because I'm impatient, and I want to get there faster. It's not for physical workout reasons, it's just because I get bored walking to places. So if you ever see me just sprinting in a parking a lot just now, I'm having a productive day. I also got this facial spray with aloe, so that's cute. And a cucumber tonic mask. There's a different mask from this brand that I used to always use. I just remember using it and feeling like my face was gonna fall off, but then I take it off and my skin would be

02:36-03:20 : Bad news, I couldn't find any puka shell necklaces. Literally I don't know if they're just that popular, they are nowhere to be found. So I had to go Michael. These are not for the video. Wow so good! I feel like as time goes on you guys will just continue to see how unhealthy my diet is. I should really workout on that. I got a bunch of beads and shells well not puka shells coz they also didn't have that at Michael's. But, uh, cute! And some beading wire. Coz I'm gonna make my own puka shell necklaces. Look at me going above and beyond. Not really stoked about having to make it, but at least we got one. So, feeling good about that. You're so hoping I can back out of this parking spot without anyone honking at me. I'm a good driver, I promise.

03:26-03:49 : Alright! We got our thing, we are good to go. So because I already had over 50% of things that I needed, things that I didn't have where the Carmack's got that. My lips are about to be super moisturized. I also got a bunch of scrunchies. I don't know how necessary that was, but I kind of started to go a little wild and just got a bunch coz I was like scrunchies are fun and I actually didn't really have any.

03:50-04:33 : So this is just a video of me getting to buy things that I really love, so I'm just really excited. And then also we have our oversized t-shirt. Also this other one from brandy Melville that I'm considering because it's adorable. It's a skeleton riding a skateboard. If that's not quirky I don't know what is. And then I already had the Polaroid camera, infamous backpack, I don't know how to say this brand so I'm not even gonna attempt you. I actually bought this like a year ago and I think I only wore it out like one time. Mainly I just can't really put things in a bag I've realized. Purses and bags are just stressful for me. Because it's like I'm gonna put all of my valuable items in a bag and then probably lose it because I'm forgetful. But maybe that'll change after today, maybe I'll just be feeling the backpack and changed my ways.

04:34-05:12 : I have a lot of stainless steel straws to choose from. We found the hydro flask. Not gonna lie, it was a little bit of a journey. They're kind of hard to find because they're not really sold at just any store. Also a given when I getting a hydro flask, you got to get the stickers. The place that I got the hydro flask only had camping themed stickers, so she's a VSCO girl that loves camping, she loves the outdoors. Then Target had these two random packs of stickers. They look a little elementary, but that's fun. We're just playful VSCO girls. We're VSCO girls with young heart. I don't know what I'm trying to say. I'm trying to justify me not having better stickers choices.

05:20-05:43 : Oh, look at that! Pretty mediocre! I saw so many hydro flasks with cute trendy adorable brandy Belleville style stickers. And I have freaking pineapples and spaceships that look like stickers that I got in second grade. I'm trying. I mean I don't hate hyper glasses with stickers on that. I just hate my take on it. Like this is not good.

05:44-05:54 : Alright! Are you ready? I'm gonna put all these on now. I love it. Cue montage.

06:12-06:58 : Holy crap! I'm ready for some skateboarding. And I'm ready for some whatever you wanna do. Starbucks and my reusable cup. Oh, where's my reusable cup? Oh, that's a close one. I'm not gonna lie. I'm genuinely like kind of loving this. I mean look! It's comfortable, it's cute, I have lots of options to put my hair up. Dang! Oh! Wow! It's kind of funny because I feel like a lot of VSCO girl things are similar to tumblr girl things. Coz I was a part of like the tumblr girl times. I always failed to be a real tumblr girl, but I tried my hardest. It was similar. I was like polaroid cameras were really big, high-waisted jeans, scrunchies not so much. It was like hair bows that reminds me I actually have video and photo proof of my wannabe tumbler girl days.

06:59-07:06 : I think it's only appropriate that we maybe watch that. Should I feel like that might be really embarrassing for me? Hmm let's do it!

07:07-07:23 : What do I even type in? Oh I know may like my prime wannabe tumbler time, just rhyming. Oh my gosh! I'm already scared. Oh there's one that I know that I was super tumbler girl of me. I was so stoked about it. Oh I found it. Oh it's here.

07:25-07:47 : It's Arizona camps everywhere. Oh my gosh! I made it into camera. I forgot that much. Oh I was wearing scrunchies. Why was my voice like five pitches higher? I totally forgot. I don't know if I was like a tumbler girl thing, but back then or like 2013 Arizona tea was just like the rage. And I remember I was like I'm gonna do a DIY with Arizona cans because I am cool.

07:48-08:23 : It's actually a really cool DIY though I'm not gonna lie. Oh, this video. I remember this one. Got shot! Who's the ocean get it girl? Ok, that's the thing. So tumbler girls, instead of like scrunchies. We were really into like bows. I say we as if I was like an actually legit tumbler girl. We loved hair bows and also I did a DIY on hair bows. I just wanted to do all the tumbler girl DIYs too. Just like prove everyone that I was a tumbler girl. My hair was so much healthier back then too. I'm just starting to watch all my old videos now, coz It's like kind of fun or it's just arrogant. So this was a tumbler trend. This was just me trying to make a trend work.

08:26-08:49 : Who were you tricking? Why did I do this hair's oriole? Why do I keep saying trick all your friends at school? Why are you trying to trick them jokes on you? It's not cute. Oh no! That was not no. Oh my gosh I guess I need to turn this off.

08:50-08:59 : Okay. So I think the point of this video is that I am not as cool as tumbler or VSCO girls. But hey! I'm me and that's all that matters but yourself. Dude, being yourself!

09:00-09:15 : It's a little later. I've been just living it up in my VSCO girl outfit. I decided to make some friendship bracelets. But I need a buddy to make these bracelets with and also do a Marion Badescu face mask with. I know just the dude. He's gonna hate this.

09:16-09:38 : I took my makeup off because baby. Because we're gonna do something really fun. So I am a VSCO girl, babe. I wanted to bring you in on the fun end the video out right. I have an extra t-shirt too if you want to wear it.

09:39-09: : Here add more! Baby that's perfect. That's cute ones. I mean they tend to have them like nicely placed on their wrists. They definitely, yeah.

09:55-10:24 : So we are also gonna make friendship bracelets. That's how I got him to come over. Time to do our face mask. Look good! Do it for you not for them!

10:31-10:46 : Yeah, that's what happens. You can't smile or laugh because it's like it'll crack it. Believe me! I hate face masks. I'm only doing this for the video. We can enjoy ourselves. You can smile like..

10: 56-11:15: That's what I do and have to laugh because it's the only thing that can make me not remove my face. Ok. we have some little strings. This is what you need to make friendship bracelets you braided it. You seem upset.

11:18-11:32 : Yeah, that's so fun. Alright, so I. Yeah, it's supposed to feel like it's hardening now. What do you mean? Why? Like tingly?

11:50-12:07 : Are you having fun? I finish. Oh it's not very good. There's my hair. I'm only making one because that took way too long. It's just coz you made it super long. You just got really into it. What do you mean?

12:27-12:30 : My face's beautiful. Really itching. Let's take it off!

12:32-12:37 : How do you feel? Your face looks a little red. I don't think so.

12:42-12:59 : What? Oh babe that was already happening. I really could clean my pores a little bit. Thank you for joining my VSCO GIRL venture. Yeah! I mean I don't think I am. So I can't really bring you into the club. Thanks baby. Of course you can. Thanks for being a trooper.

13:00-13:17 : That's it for this video. Thank you for watching. Oh my gosh! This is what happens when you were knockoff VSCO girl. Anyway I love you and I'll see your faces soon. Actually I won't see face, but you'll see my face soon. Hopefully see that soon. That was terrible. Bye

E. TRANSCRIPT OF FEMALE YOUTUBER II

00:01-00:29 : What's up you guys it's Hannah. Welcome back to my channel. Today's video is gonna be absolutely nothing like any of my other videos. So, if you were hoping for the fun up, be creative video like I try to put out every Sunday, this isn't that. If that is what you were expecting, I'm sorry I have so many others that you can go watch. This is a video that I feel like I need to make today. And no other video feels right for me to make today.

00:30-00:52 : And I will explain why in a second. But today I want to just talk to you guys about anxiety. And my experience with it I guess. I have gotten so many comments, tweets, from you guys. Asking me to make a video going more in depth about my anxiety because I know I've mentioned lots of times on my channel. It's sorry my hair's like just a mess.

00:53-01:24 : But I know I've mentioned on my channel that I had anxiety, but I'm never really gone into detail about it. And I've gotten so many, you know, of you guys reaching out to me and saying that you also struggle with anxiety and you'd love to hear me talk about it more. And I've wanted to make that video, but I never knew how to like I didn't really know what to say or when would be the right time to make it. But I think that now is the right time for me because this past week or so I have been experiencing of very intense episode of anxiety.

01:25-01:52 : Literally panic attacks every day. Uh not really eating for the past week because I've been too anxious and it makes me nauseous, being extremely tired all the time because my body is just exhausted from not eating and from having panic attacks every day. Just not being able to focus. And when I was trying to figure out what to do for this week's video because I really really tried my very hardest to get a video up every single week for you guys. I've been doing it consistently for months. I want to put out content for you guys because I genuinely could not think of a video that I wanted to film.

01:53-02:13 : For this week I didn't have any, like creative inspiration. It's it's Wednesday at this point. So typically of film like over the weekend or on Monday, so I can put myself in a good position. But it's Wednesday and I've just been so overwhelmed and feeling so absolutely out of it. I have no motivation or creativity right now. It's because of this time that I'm going through with my anxiety,

02:14-03:15 : So I felt like the only video that I could film today is this one. And a lot of you guys see me as a big sister or like a mom or something. And I feel like I wouldn't be a good one if I didn't take about this to you guys because another thing that sparked my wanted to just sit down right now and do this. Is I was at school earlier and I had a conversation with my friends and she understands what I'm going through because she struggle with anxiety as well. And I just remembered how good it feels to talk to somebody about it that understands. And I know that finding people that truly truly understand how you're feeling is hard. If anyone out there watching this right now feels that way and feels like nobody that they know understands how they're feeling. And they feel like they don't have anybody to turn to, I want, you know that you have me to turn to. And that's why I'm making this video. If I even help or touch one person and literally make one person, you know, realize that they're not alone then that will fulfill my purpose for making this video. I genuinely have this platform that I'm so beyond grateful and mind-blowing that I have and I need to use it for this right now 03:16-03:42 : So that's a really long-winded way of saying that I'm gonna be talking about anxiety today. It is gonna be very real. I don't have like a plan or anything. I don't have notes. I don't have like a sequence of thing I want to talk about. Usually for my videos I'm very put together or at least I try to be and I have like a list of points I want to hit, I don't today. So this video could be very rambling, but please bear with me. I'm just going to talk about things as I think of them. Alright without further ado let's get on into this video.

03:43-04:53 : So I would say that my anxiety started when I was in seventh grade. Seventh grade is probably the first time that I felt something that I now identify as a panic attack. And I would have them frequently, like 2on my way to school, in the morning on the bus. That is as when I realize that I suffer from what I now know as social anxiety. So I guess I should. Ok so seventh grade like the first time that I really felt that. I want to say that I was round 12ish and I would have panic attacks on the way to school. So basically what a panic attack consist of for me it has been this way since the start the exact same. I feel like I can't breathe. I shake, I get very nauseous to the point like I said earlier where I don't eat and if it gets bed enough I will throw up. Literally anywhere I am, I will throw up. That is the first part of me because I know as soon as I especially in social situation, I know that I'm gonna get anxiety at that situation. And then I get anxiety about getting anxiety and then I get anxiety about throwing up because of my anxiety and then I throw up. I just feel so embarrassed about it and I don't. It's like how do you say to somebody like "Excuse me, I have to go throw up know because I'm anxious and scared and worried about". Literally no idea what I'm scared about but I'm gonna go throw up. See you guys. Um, yeah.

04:53-05:37 : So I don't remember throwing up at school when I was in middle school because of anxiety, but I did throw up quite often in high school. From panic attacks I remember the first time, I think this might have been the first time. There were so many times. I just really the first and the last. But the first time was my freshman year. I throw up in homeroom because I met a new boy the I liked. And It triggered my social anxiety. And just my anxiety was heightened because I was in school and I was around people. And when I feel like I'm having panic attack and I'm around other people, my anxiety about throwing up goes up because I don't want in front of other people like who really does. It just piled and piled and piled and snowballed and I throw up in homeroom, in front of everybody. I threw up in trash can so at least that's a good thing. I made it to trash can but, yeah.

05:38-06:06 : So they've pretty much been consistently those symptoms since the start anyway. So I was diagnosed with generalized anxiety disorder. I want to say in high school that is the first time that I actually went to someone about it. And I was put on medications. So I have tried a few different medications over the years. I'm currently on a daily one now and I also have another one that I take as needed for panic attacks, um which I don't experience panic attacks like everyday. This isn't normal for me. This is like phase I marry. Now is not normal for me but I have certain triggers.

06:07-06:38 : I did experience. One of those last week and I have been in a state of panic ever since. So, okay, where do I want to go now. So I've suffered from the just general anxiety disorder and pretty heavy social anxiety since like I was 12. I also whole suffer from OCD. And that's started when I was in high school. I know OCD contain so many different forms and my form personally I have to do things like assert amount of times. I feel like that's a pretty typical one like having some type of ritual of something you have to do to get rid of an anxious thought.

06:39-06:55 : I remember it got really really bad. I want to say like tail end of high school. And then my first two years of college, so bad. I would have to like knock on wood three times, everything was in threes. Not only that, I had to make sure everything was straight. Three things came up a lot if I was just like for example drinking a bottle of water. I would have to take three gulps, that's it. Like it was insane.

06:56-07:17 : Like and basically something very bad was going happen to me or somebody that I loved. Basically but my anxiety would be telling me is that if I do not do like whatever ritual I had, then that thing was going happen to me. And to me, doing a ritual or whatever the hell, it was like my compulsion doing that was a better thing to do within to actually worry about that thing happening to me and my just associated.

07:18-07:41 : Okay, if you do this, it's not gonna happen with you which like hindsight. That's just bullshit like they're me. Like knocking on wood is not gonna stop. Any bad thing from happening to me, but that is what your anxiety your OCD tells you. Like if you're not having an episode of it, you're more like clear minded. You can you can save yourself like this makes absolutely on sense. But in the moment, it is so terrifying. Just the thought of that thing happening to you, that is like you have to like I had to do it.

07:42-08:10 : So that's that. I think I've gone to like five different like therapists and I didn't really connect with them. And it's frustrating because I want to, you know, try again but it also is hard because then I have to re-explain like my entire life story to that person and why I have the anxiety that I have. And like I don't want to go through that over and over again until I find like a person who I actually click with. I'm here talking to a camera and that's gonna be my therapy session. I feel like talking about this right now is gonna help me because I have just been feeling bottled up, especially for the past week.

08:11-08:44 : Another thing about anxiety is that if you talk about it to someone who doesn't truly understand, like it's so hard to understand the feeling of having a panic attack or just having anxiety or just any of that. If you don't experience it yourself, like you just do not truly understand the depths of like literal misery that someone feels they are suffering with anxiety disorder. And I do trying to talk to people about it, but I get responses this happens all the time. And people really do try to help or just like to be a voice of reason for me, and just be like trying to call me and center me and be like hey, like it's okay.

08:45-09:18 : You know this isn't real but if you don't experience anxiety, if you don't know what it feels, like you don't get that it is not okay. And people will say to me like "Oh what are you worried about, stop worrying, don't worry about it, breathe." I have a chemical imbalance in my brain. I don't know what I'm worrying about, I don't know how to stop it, and I cannot just not worry about things. I don't know why I'm fucking worrying. If I knew why, if I could answer your question of what are you worried about, I wouldn't be worried about it.

09:19-09:45 : And it's like people have good intentions, nobody is trying to make me feel like bad or like people are trying to help it. It's like it's so hard when someone doesn't completely understand the feeling. That is why I'm making this right now and I'm talking to you guys because honestly the amount of people that I've actually encountered in my life, that do fully understand how I feel, I would say probably like 3 max. But there are some people that I'll talk to you, and they genuinely make me feel like I'm fucking insane, and I'm like listen.

09:46-10:13 : This is a real issue lots of people deal with it and it's people like you who are why no fucking likes to talk about it. Because you make me feel like I'm nuts. It's really not that bad, like you can go out and do things. You don't have to worry, you don't have to like why you have anxiety. Like there's nothing going on, there's nothing wrong. I know. And if you're watching this and you don't suffer from anxiety, and somebody approaches you someone in your life and they try to talk to you about this, don't fucking say that to them. Just listen! Just assure you're here for them. Don't try and tell them like "oh you don't need to be worried about it."

10:14-10:30 : And yes, I know that there are ways to cope. Okay, talking to people about it, that do understand you is one of my ways to cope. Other ways that I like to cope when I'm having a really bad, you know, Dave anxiety or even a panic attack. I sent my room by myself which I didn't do most of the time anyways. And I listen to music.

10:31-10:53 : Music is probably my number one favorite thing to do. I know that there are certain songs that I listen to them, they make me happy. And other songs that I just really really relate to the lyrics. Music is so powerful for me and it's always been that way. If I didn't have music I don't know that the hell I would do. I really don't. Some other things that you could try to do especially if you don't feel like you have anybody listening to you and that you don't have anybody who understands who you're going through.

10:54-11:27 : I've started journaling. I'm not very great at consistency, but when I talk out loud or when I text someone and vent or write in a journal, it just getting it off my chest and like pulling it out. And feeling like it's not just, you know, weighing on mw anymore like I have like kind of released it by putting it out to the universe. It makes me feel better. And I mean no it's not gonna cure my anxiety, but like, honestly about finding ways to make it manageable. And make your daily life easier. This is such a real problem. And I am so freaking happy that I have my platform that I have.

11:28-12:18 : I'm talking to you guys on right now. And that mental health is something that we're talking about more. Basically I wanna say to you guys is if you related to anything that I said in this video or you feel like you suffer from anxiety or any other mental health problem. Don't feel ashamed. It's something that so many more people are going through. Then you probably would think even if you feel like there's absolutely nobody in the world that relates to you and that feels the way that you feel. Know that we all have our problem. I put myself on the internet. I'm somebody who lives with very severe anxiety. I feel like a lot of people like there's this received notion that people who are YouTubers or have a lot of follower or whatever, just have these perfect lives and they have nothing wrong with them. And because we try it, you try and put your best self on social media like you want to portray yourself.

12:19-12:47 : The best you can, and just make yourself make it look like you're always having fun. And honestly that is becoming less and less important to me. I've always always tried to be very genuine and real with you guys. Basically what I'm trying to say is that my life is not perfect. And I am not perfect. The people that you watch on YouTube or that you follow on Instagram, and you look at them and you think like "wow their lives must be perfect". Most if not all people are fighting some battle in their life that you know nothing about. Yeah, I'm gonna stop talking now. I've been talking for a while and feel better.

12:48-13:11 : I really hope this video makes it to the internet, if not, I don't know, whatever. Umm I hope it does anyway. So that's it. That's all I wanted to say. I think please just know that you're not alone.

You're not, you're 100% not. We're all struggling with something. And if relate to what I'm struggling with, hey, I understand you, I do. Don't ever feel like you're alone. Don't ever feel like you're the only person in the world struggling with something, because you're not.

13:12-13:37 : Like I said my goal was really just to help, at least one person. And I really hope I did that. So that's it for today's video. I'm really hungry. I'm going myself some lunch. Thank you guys so much for watching this video. A few stains let's play the video comment down below. Everyone because you are a real one. You're the realest ever. Subscribe! If you want to new video every Sunday. And I love you guys so much. And I hope you guys all have a wonderful rest of your day. And I'll see you guys my next video. Bye.

F. TRANSCRIPT OF FEMALE YOUTUBER III

00:05-00:49 : So this video is going to be about finding myself. I will be dying up my hair. I made this decision today. Actually I've been thinking about doing this, but not really seriously thinking about doing it like I always think about doing a lot of things. My hair is just something that I change it from time to time. Although it's been at natural color for the last like. Let's say like a year and a half, I think. If you've been a longtime subscriber, my hair has gone through phases, not very like drastic ones. But I had very short hair. Then I dyed it blonde, not really blonde. It was like a balayage.

And then on the top of that I added like a green color that I thought would wash off. I did it.

00:50-01:17 : It was supposed be a temporary color didn't wash off. It was green actually. It was supposed to be like teal and then it just turned green and then it looked really ugly for a while. Even the hairstylist that I went to couldn't get it out. So it took me like months. And many hair sessions to get it out of my hair. And back to blonde coz I didn't want to dye it black. I can't remember when I in tying it back to my color. I think it was in Puerto Rico last year. I don't remember.

01:18-01:34 : And I only dyed it back because it was starting to look really really dead. And now it's super healthy. And here we go again about to damage it. So here is I'm thinking I only want to do the strips in the front like little streaks of hair. Right here.

01:35-02:00 : I've always wanted to dye my entire head like a crazy color like pink, green, whatever. And I never could. Here's the thing. I am 22 years old. I know that's probably not very old, but it's old enough to be like a girl. Why are you dying in her crazy color. Not only because I'm 22 but because I am a mom to a three-year old. Not that should matter at all. But in my head I'm like people are definitely gonna judge me.

02:02-02:16 : Also like my mom's voice is always in the back of my head. Telling me that I'm going to look absolutely insane, and to not do or she's gonna beat my ass. But guess what, mom? I don't live with you anymore. I haven't for the last two years. And I'm still scared.

02:17-02:29 : Growing up with a strict mom meant that I couldn't do anything crazy to my hair. And this is why I'm doing this now. This is my time to shine. I'm 22 years old. Why are you doing this? I'm doing it. It's fine. It's fine.

02:30-03:02 : I went to two beauty supply stores. I went to Sally's. I got the color, I got the bleach. I actually come zero idea what I'm doing coz I've never done this myself. I've only done the like teal color myself and I was like, I don't know both. Pretty easy but this is bleach. I have to bleach my own hair. I'm bleaching my own hair. I'm already regretting this. I didn't make a lot of decisions through my life. Always regret it. Actually I never regret it. I never do. I have many crappy tattoos. This is nothing compared to my crappy tattoos. Here we go.

03:02-03:34 : It is a Sunday night. It is a way passed my bed time. I'm just tryna be a cool mom, ok. Because I got very tired. Also I got inspired by this girl and I think she's 16. I'm not 16. She's allowed to do this, you know. She's a teenager. But I kind of do with my high school. Do you understand? That's what you made me do, mom. If this turns out bad or my hair fries off, I'm blaming my mom for not letting me be myself in high school. I don't know how much here I want to die. So I'm just gonna start with a little bit, like this much.

- 03:35-03:52 : The plan is to diet blonde. But I'm scared that it's gonna turn out orange. So if that's the case, I got some purple dye. This is the artic fox purple rain. I just grabbed whatever I saw. So if it's orange, I'm just gonna put purple on top of it and hope for the best.
- 03:53-04:24 : Well see! I'm taking this well blabla thing to another level, but Mateo actually has been wanting to dye his hair green which is obviously not gonna happen for a while because he's three years old, but he keeps begging me. But you know what? I'll be a cool mom. And let him dye his hair when he's, you know, 16 of whatever. Self-expression, it's a good thing even when you feel like you are too old. Oh no. Did I need aluminum foil? Am I stupid? Yes. The answer is yes.
- 04:25-04:52 : I just turned off my camera for assaultive like 20 minutes to watch YouTube videos of people bleaching their hair. Basically everybody has pretty much the same thing that I do. I got some of these little packets. This is the Loreal Quick blue extra-strength of bleach, I guess. And a developer I got a 40, most people use a 30 or 20. I got a 40. Don't really know what that means. Every year, so it was just unsubscribed. And then died.
- 04:53-05:14 : But here we go anyway. I just looked up what it means actually. It says that it is for like really black hair which I have. So I'm gonna have to be really really careful with this. I already know. This is me stalling, still. I'm trying not to think about it.

Because if I think about it too hard, I'm not gonna do it. Okay, oh my God I'm so nervous. I'm so nervous.

05:15-06:04 : Okay, really just hope and pray that my child doesn't wake up. It's us put the recommend amount of quickly blah blah blah bleach into a bowl with the developer, but where. Where is the recommended amount? Oh it's right here. I'm so stupid. I don't have a measuring cup. One and a half fluid ounces and milliliters. Perfect! I have a Pepto-Bismol cup. I'm gonna use this to measure this, because I have nothing else. I almost melt it but I don't think that's safe. This is an ASMR right now. I'm actually going up to Orlando from Miami to go see my sister and my mom tomorrow.

06:08-06:17 : Here goes nothing I'm not going to talk too much. I'm not gonna talk too much. I'm gonna put on my favorite murder podcast and just not think about the fact that I'm bleaching my hair.

06:28-06:34 : And now we wait around 10 minutes. I'm gonna check it every 10 minutes and see what's up.

06:35-07:08 : Okay. It's been 16 minutes. Let's unravel this and see how it's looking so far. I am so nervous coz I can see my hair right here. Oh God! I think I just bleach my chair. Oh, well! Holy crap old on. Wait! Okay. Okay, we're gonna we're gonna wash this off because I think it's good and I don't want my hair to fall off. What if this is one of those videos with like my hair falls off.

07:10-07:31 : So I definitely should have left this in for a lot longer. I just got, I got so scared. I've never done this before. It is not blonde at all really. It's actually kind of orange. But I don't have it. Like maybe it'll look good and like subtle when it dries. So we're gonna dry it and see how it looks.

07:39-07:41 : I belong dryers not working.

07:47-08:02 : Looks like a bird. I didn't dry it all the way through. I tried not to make it super straight because my hair is natural right now. I keep thinking Mateo woke up, but it's Ginger walking around. I'm scared.

08:05-08:19 : I look like an early 2000s pop star. I don't hate it right now. I wanna see you guys. I feel like because I blow dried it, the curl isn't too curly. And it actually doesn't look that damaged like it's only frizzy because I will drain it.

08:20-08:43 : I'm going to dye it purple. I'm just gonna put the purple on top because I know it'll fade over time. And if I need too I'll just bleach it again at a later time and then just chop all my hair off. And then end up bald. It is definitely orange and if I were to leave it like this, I'd probably do one more round of bleach. But since I'm putting color on top of it, I'm not gonna bleach it anymore.

08:44-08:50 : Oh my God! What the hell! This smells like grape. Is it coz it's purple. I see what you guys did there.

08:55-09:05 : Mateo just woke up. Oh my God! He is screaming in his room and I am freaking out. Okay, goodbye.

09:07-09:15 : What if I just came back in my entire head of hair was purple. Then that would have made for a much better video. But you know what? Look at us!

09:18-09:54 : We did it guys. We survived this video. Oh I I'm digging it. I really like it. I liked up the purple isn't too out there because I was so scared of you guys. I mean I made that very clear throughout this entire video. I just don't want this to be the start of a new addiction and like the next hair dyeing video might be me just bleaching my entire head on hair. I just, you know what I could have gone to a professional but what would be the fun of that. Okay I wanted to do this myself. I'm gonna straighten it tomorrow and see how it looks. And I'll update you guys then.

09:56-10:22 : It's the next day. I'm in Orlando now. This is why I'm vlogging from my car. But I straightened my hair. I feel like you guys were expecting a drastic change, so sorry. Anyway I just called my sister to come outside. I'm sitting outside of my mom's apartment. My mom is currently working upstairs. So my sister's coming down and I'm just gonna get her reaction. I didn't tell her that I was gonna dye my hair. But I did make an Instagram post, so she knows. But she doesn't really know. You know?

10:38-10:50 : What do you mean that? Actually dude you're looking at it. It's not chalk, I bleached that. Yes.

10:52-11:25 : Go find Nana! Nana? You poke me in the eye. Where is the light in here? She likes it. She likes it. She never likes anything. You know what is this like? This looks like when I had those pink extensions when I was little. I have to find the picture now.
