3. Table of Interview (open-ended)

QUESTION	ANSWER OF RESPONDENT
How did you feel when teaching a class with uncomfortable feelings?	1st respondent : Feeling restless and afraid of making mistakes. 2nd respondent : If I feel uncomfortable, I can experience fear and insecurity while teaching. 3rd respondent : I control myself to stay well, only with uncomfortable in my opinion.
What were the hardest challenges you felt while teaching in the classroom?	1st respondent : Facing students who have different characters 2nd respondent : The hardest challenge when teaching is that I feel when we are faced with students with different characters. 3rd respondent : adapting with students

When you feel the anxiety of teaching in a class, are you able to speak fluently and deliver the material perfectly?	1st respondent : No, talking stammeringly
	2nd respondent : When I am anxious, I can feel scared to the point of nervousness when speaking and the delivery of the material can be stammered.
	3rd respondent : Not so perfect, sometimes when teaching suddenly my mind goes blank.
When you experience anxiety, what are the stages of teaching that you forget?	1st respondent : Checking the student's attendance list, because they were too nervous when they saw them staring at me intently
	2nd respondent : Usually when I feel anxious I forget to do the opening activity.
	3rd respondent : Complete material. There is always some stage that I forget.
When students ask using correct English, how do you feel?	1st respondent : feel insecure, because as a teacher I am afraid that they are more able to speak English than I am
	2nd respondent : I feel worried that sometimes there are times when I have difficulty in understanding something.
	3rd respondent : Very happy because there is progress in these students.
What are you afraid of while teaching in the classroom?	1st respondent : Fear of making mistakes in the delivery of material.
	2nd respondent : What I am afraid of is when the

	student does not understand what I am saying. 3rd respondent : Fear of giving the wrong material and how to convey it is too convoluted.
Are you able to communicate with using full English during the learning process? If not, why?	1st respondent : No, considering that public schools, not international where students are not very familiar with English. 2nd respondent : Can't, because when I'm nervous I can forget english vocabulary. 3rd respondent : No, because I haven't fully mastered English either.
During the teaching process, will you be talking with students, or students talk with you more often?	1st respondent : Students, because I am too focused on thinking about the next step of learning. 2nd respondent : I talk with students more often to build a good atmosphere. 3rd respondent : I often talk to students, because we as teachers must be able to approach students so that we know the characteristics of each student.
How do you manage your anxiety while teaching a class?	1st respondent : Always try to avoid mistakes and looks fine. 2nd respondent : Walked out of the room for a while. Relax and motivate myself. 3rd respondent : Stay calm and take deep breaths.
Why do you think you feel anxiety when	1st respondent : The first is afraid that they will make a

teaching in the classroom? Can you name the factor?	mistake both in delivering the material and when facing different student characters. Secondly, lack of confidence because my English level is afraid of being lower than that of students. 2nd respondent : I can feel anxious because I often think about things that haven't happened (overthinking). Factors can be from lack of confidence and not preparing things well. 3rd respondent : Because we as teachers also have to adapt to students, sometimes I'm afraid students don't like the material I teach or don't like the way I teach them.
